THE ITINERARY

We are gathering for the simple reason of coming together to begin the discussion on how we can make International Trades Education Exchange a reality and start moving people. The format will be broadly open, as a round table discussion with a moderator to keep the conversation on topic.

We will gather at the Conference Room at 8:30 and begin with introductions and a brief presentation on “International and Domestic Trades Exchange at the Chapel Recreation at St Mary’s City”. Hopefully this will act as a springboard for the conversation.

The four topics to be discussed are:

Logistics

Hosting

Funding

Proliferation/Communication

There will be mid-morning and mid-afternoon courtesy breaks, and lunch will be served on-site at 12:30. It is anticipated that the event will conclude around 5:00PM

THE VENUE

The International Trades Exchange Inaugural Summit will be held in the Historic Scotland Conference Room in the lower level of the Great Hall at Stirling Castle. A buffet lunch will be graciously provided by Historic Scotland. Historic Scotland has been instrumental in helping facilitate this event and they deserve the utmost respect and appreciation for helping make this happen.

ABOUT THE QUINQUE PROGRAM:

Established by philanthropist Helen Buchanan, The Quinque Fellows Program was launched in May 2001 to increase the fund of conservation skills in both the US and Scotland. Lasting for 5 years, Quinque Fellows from both sides on the Atlantic worked alongside host craftspeople for 6-12 weeks. It was the goal of this program to establish a something sustainable to continue these ideals. It is our hope that the International Trades Education Exchange can make this a reality.
